County schools enroll Aug. 15

Summer is almost over for younger set.

Students in the county public schools head back to the classrooms in two weeks while those in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District have an additional two weeks' leeway. Registration is Thursday, Aug. 15, for all county schools, according to Superintendent Eugene Ladner. Classes start the following Monday.

City Superintendent J. D. Culloch said his system will register pupils Friday, Aug. 30, and classes will begin Monday, Sept. 3, the day after Labor Day.

There's to be a number of changes in the county system as it moves into compliance with directives of the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare on integration. All county students grades 10, 11 and 12 will be bused to the new Hancock North Central School. About 100 pupils in these grades have been requested at their parents' request to the Bay system but Ladner expects some will change their minds and they need to notify the office.

All ninth grade pupils from the Pearlinton area will attend Gulfview School at Lakeview, at least temporarily, he said. He indicated some changes may be made later. There are four extra rooms at Lakeview and Ladner said that should be sufficient for the 45 to 50 ninth graders from the two areas.

Charles B. Murphy School in Pearlinton will open at 7:45 a.m., Gulfview at 8 a.m. and Hancock North Central at 8:30. The superintendent explained this is because of the greater distance in transportation involved. School buses will pick up some children at Murphy, take them to Gulfview and then continue to HNC, seven miles north of Kiln.

Twenty-one buses are slated to operate this session and all drivers have been hired. Drivers are to pick up their vehicles at the bus shop at North Central on Wednesday, Aug. 14. There are no new additions to the fleet this year, Ladner noted the system still owes about $50,000 on earlier purchases.

After county registration Aug. 15, teachers will meet at each school and Friday will be set aside for any schedule shifts. Several faculty vacancies remain to be filled, most of them at the elementary level, the superintendent reported. Gulfview needs a second and third grade teacher; Pearlinton has a social studies opening, and some of the lower grades at HNC need teachers.

The mid-August opening will enable the system to complete first semester examinations before the Christmas recess which Ladner said he is advised makes for better learning and examination marks.

A crew of one dozen Neighborhood Youth Corps boys has been cleaning the city schools in preparation for the 1968-69 session, McCulloch reported. He said the plants are in better shape now than ever before. At Waveland provision has been made for a library and a school secretary. At S. J. Ingram School, Mayor John Scaride has agreed to operate with the school system in clearing the area about the Youth Center to provide more recreational facilities.

The Bay faculties will meet at each school at 9 a.m., Thursday, Aug. 29, and a general meeting is set for 2 p.m. at the junior high auditorium. Only two teacher vacancies remain.

Fireman at work

Bay fireman Floyd Page ascends ladder in puff of smoke as blaze of undetermined origin swept this Toulon Street dwelling at 12:55 p.m. Tuesday. Home, owned by W.A. ## Four die returning from Sunday outing

Funeral services were Tuesday afternoon at First Southern Baptist Church of Pearlinton for four young people killed Sunday night in a two-car crash four miles east of Slidell, La., on U.S. 190.

Dead are Larry Howard Lee, 21, just back from a tour of duty with the Army in Vietnam; his wife, Mrs. Letha Pearl Williams Lee, 18, Wayne Samuel McCarty, 19, and Cynthia Adele McArthur, 16.

The foursome, all of whom had attended Bay High School, were returning from an outing at Pontchartrain Beach when the accident occurred about 10:30 p.m.

Louisiana State Trooper Ossie Singletary said that the westbound automobile occupied by the victims collided with another vehicle operated by Fred Singletary, 16, of Slidell and three companions. The teen-agers had apparently been engaged in minor mischief and had been chased by Slidell police about 10 p.m. The city officers were forced to give up their pursuit when they reached the city limits.

Singletary said the youths had obviously turned around as they were headed for Slidell when the cars met almost head-on. Only the driver of the east-bound car was slightly injured. No formal charges have been filed pending further investigation.

Larry Lee was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Lee of Pearlinton. He was born May 12, 1947, in New Orleans and lived in Slidell. Besides his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Horace E. and Willie J. Lee, both of Pearlinton; Charles R. Lee of Piqueno; Ronald W. Lee of Nicholson, and two sisters, Gladys Marie Stockstill of Piqueno and Velma J. Lee of Pearlinton.

His wife was the daughter of Mrs. Julie McCarty Marr of Slidell and Louie Williams. She was born Sept. 17, 1951, in Piqueno and lived in Slidell. Besides her mother, survivors include one brother, Walter Morrison; and three sisters, Misses Roda Lynn Shubert, Alberta and Jody Marr, all of Slidell.

ond foes etort to hamber

The 22 objectors to validation of Bay St. Louis' $780,000 street improvement bond issue utilized the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce this week for its resolution calling them to drop the law suit.

"We were astonished at your understanding of the term democratic procedure in view of the fact that this program has been voted down twice by the democratic procedure," they wrote.

Nine members of the chamber board voted for the resolution, the 10th present at the meeting abstained.

Attorneys for the city and objectors are to file briefs by Friday with Chancellor William Lee who is hearing the validation proceedings. Arguments and testimony occupied most of Tuesday and Wednesday.

The objectors wrote the chamber: "We resent the erroneous misleading statements and allegations contained in this report. We feel that this matter is being acted upon by the Chamber in haste and without proper consideration and doubt that full membership of the Chamber of Commerce would see with the contents of this report."

"We assure you that we have been long and thorough in our contribution to our decision in acting to these bonds. We further assure you that we are fully concerned about the well-being and betterment of our community. It is our purpose to act for the improvement and progress of Bay St. Louis in an orderly, advisable, proper and lawful manner."

"In conclusion, we do not intend to be intimidated, threatened, coerced or forced by such a group of nine men to surrender our position in an undertaking adopted many months ago. We intend to continue our fight without abatement."

Second try today on S-II firing

A second countdown for the static firing of the Apollo-Saturn V second stage rocket is scheduled to begin about 8 a.m. today at Mississippi Test Facility after the initial test last Thursday was postponed when a malfunction developed on liquid hydrogen tank vent valves.

If everything goes well, the firing should take place about 3:30 p.m., a NASA spokesman said.

This is the first engine of this stage to be static tested at the site. It's the S-II-5, fifth flight version of the S-II built by North American-Rockwell. A full duration six minute firing is planned.

Last week's test was scrubbed about 4:15 p.m. when the trouble spot was detected.

Photographers from Life magazine will be on hand for the occasion.

Beach right of way clearing need eyed

Clarification is being sought from the State Highway Department on the exact amount of beach road right of way which must be cleared for rebuilding of the strip ravished by Hurricane Betsy nearly three years ago.

The board of supervisors conferred with county engineer A.C. Malchow at his Gulfport office Monday afternoon trying to resolve the matter with the least difficulty to property owners between Clermont Harbor and St. Charles Street.

Russell J. Elliott, supervisors' president, said Malchow will confer with B.F. Broome, district state aid engineer, and try to settle on a 13-foot maximum clearance beyond the existing roadway. Specifications on the repair project, on which bids are to be opened Wednesday, Aug. 21, indicate only 10 feet must be cleared of obstructions.

Supervisors got concerned when the legal notice to beach property owners, prepared by Attorney Joseph H. Benvenuti, said the entire 60-foot easement from the outer edge of the seawall should be vacated. Besides extensive moving of utility poles and mail boxes, they foresaw a major project in clearing hedges, fences, perhaps even some concrete retaining walls. The notice to clear also stated the county would do the moving if individual owners failed to comply by Aug. 21.

When the seawall was originally created in 1927, minutes of the board show a 60-foot easement was to be acquired. There seems to be some question, however, whether it was implemented all along the 5.8 miles to be fixed at this time.

Elliott told his colleagues Monday morning, before they took off to talk with Malchow, that he couldn't see getting into an ownership question with the property owners at this time when the main goal is to get the road fixed. The existing pavement is 18 to 20 feet wide.

The board held for consultation with Sheriff Fred Curet at its meeting next Monday three emergency bids secured on re-wiring the overloaded electrical circuits in the Courthouse. The problem was the wide divergence between the low bid and the other two and the board was unable to determine whether all bidders had been given the same specifications.

Low was Edward Electric at $545, Stevenson bid $1,029 and Wilcox Electric bid $1,087. Representatives of the latter two had appeared before the board the previous Monday to outline what they thought should be done and Edward was called in to provide the required third bid for emergency work.

Supervisors thought inside vs. all weather circuits might account for a part of the difference but doubted that one item could run so high.

Jack Ladner of Carroll Avenue appeared to commend the board on reopening the old Lower Bay Road about six weeks ago and to protest the county assessment of marsh land. Ladner recalled he had fought for many years to reopen the old road, the original Old Spanish Trail. Supervisor Dolph Kellar of Beat 2 observed the board had never gone on record closing the road but a former supervisor simply stopped working it. C.A. Russ, III, current Beat 1 member, recently started fixing it.

The board decided against rescinding an earlier order authorizing a $60 ad in the Gulfport Graphic's Miss Hospitality edition after being advised by the Chamber of Commerce this was not an official publication (Cont. on Page 2-A.)

Library drive gains $1,230

Gifts totalling $1,230 toward the building fund for the proposed new City-County Public Library Building were received during the last week, according to James Ginn, treasurer for the drive.

The sum includes $200 from an anonymous donor; $1,000 from Mrs. Ernest C. Samuel, president of the library board of trustees; $5 from Lance Cpl. Steve Wyatt, stationed with the 1st Marine Division in Vietnam, and $28 from the Children of Friendship Society.

Wyatt sent his check and good wishes for success of the campaign to H. H. Shattuck, chairman of the drive. The graduate of St. Stanislaus said he learned of the new building plans from his copy of the Sea Coast Echo.

Total contributed to date is $11,230. The library hopes to raise $100,000 toward the building from public contributions and the county is to put up another $100,000, subject to ratification by the voters in November of a bond issue in that amount.

Circuit terms revised

Three terms of Circuit Court are scheduled in Hancock County--in January, July and October--starting next year under the amended legislation enacted by the current state legislature for the 2nd Judicial District.

Judge Leslie B. Grant has notified Clerk Lamar Otis of the new schedule in which he will share with Judge Harry Walker, recently appointed to the new second judgeship in the district.

Next term will be in September under the old system and Judge Grant will preside. In recent years grand juries have been called at the May and September terms.

Under the new formula there will be grand juries in January and July. First session will be three weeks starting the second Monday in January with Judge Grant on the bench. Judge Walker will handle the July term, starting the second Monday that month, also for three weeks, and the two-week October term, starting the second Monday in October. This gives Hancock two more weeks of Circuit Court than currently.

Warden tells resident tag requirements

Only bona fide Mississippi residents are eligible to take out resident fishing licenses, State Game Warden Pat Toomey explained this week.

Validity of residence is determined by homestead tax exemption, Mississippi automobile tags and driver's license.

Fishermen's boats also must be registered in Mississippi when they have an engine of 10 or more horse power, he explained.

Mississippi is the only state in the union which offers tourist permits. These are priced at $1.50 for three days of fishing and $5 for seven days of hunting.

Toomey clarified requirements for game and fish licenses after question was raised before the board of supervisors whether residents who own camps here have to buy non-resident licenses.

The warden also said equipment is only taken as evidence for the court hearing and is returned to the individual afterwards, regardless of the outcome of the case.

MTF land unit completes task

The eminent domain commission for the Mississippi Test Facility last completed three years of work after hearing about 370 cases in regard to government purchase of land for the facility.

The three-man commission, with Jackson attorney Robert Nichols as chairman, and Emmett Thomas, Biloxi, and Wilson Wehre, Bay St. Louis, ruled in the last case Thursday.

"This commission has possibly handled more cases than any other in the United States," a member commented.

Of all cases involved in the large land transaction, there are only about 25 under appeal. The entire project involved 3,328 tracts of land which included 128,870 acres of land; if the appeals are not overturned by the courts, the cost will be $16,698,410.

They included 2,255 tracts involving 6,584 acres at a total cost of $7,033,208 by total title work cost action; 524 tracts including 4,402 acres and costing $3,456,677 through condemnation. The last included 27,000 acres owned by Crosby Forest Products and 23,000 acres owned by International Paper Co.

Jury trials preceded the appointment of the commission, and some cases were settled in the courts during the tenure of the commission.

Of those cases still on appeal, the U.S. district judge will uphold the commission's ruling or turn the case back to the jury.

If the judge rules with the jury, the case can be appealed to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Charl eads ed Cross

R. Schmitt was appointed chairman of the Hancock County American Red Cross for the July 25 meetings of the board. He replaced J. Cyril, who resigned.

Mrs. Clarence Evans, chairman and supplies chair, presented a report of Hancock County activities to the board. Beniah Palmer, Mobile, was director for Southeast.

Mrs. Palmer suggested the report be published in order to acquaint people with the work being done by community churches and organizations during the year.

In January, the Woman's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church entertained veterans from the Gulfport VA hospital; the WSCS of Main Street Methodist Church in February; Young Homemakers in March; Eastern Star in April; Church of Latter Day Saints in May; Episcopal Guild in June; Waveland Methodist Church in July; Woodmen of the World in August; American Legion in September; Women's Auxiliary, Pass Christian Yacht Club, in October; Presbyterian Church in November and Bay-Waveland Homers Club, in December.

Approximately 20 veterans in the group entertained a month.

Mrs. Evans announced she accepted donations of old coats, electric irons, clocks, jewelry, paper backs or puzzles, which she distributes four times yearly to the VA hospitals to be used for rehabilitation therapy. At Christmas items for gift giving to the hospitals are also collected by Mrs. Evans from merchants in this area.

Guess whose?

This forcibly opened safe was found July 25 on Paper Company Road, just off Ansley Road, by Deputy Sheriff George Rayburn. Ownership of Mosler product, serial No. 88851, is a mystery as such a theft has not been reported to local officers. It was empty when located except for 97 cents in change, left among metal filings as the door was sawed off by the thief or thieves.

Tennesseean found dead by L&N tracks

A 36-year-old Knoxville, Tenn., man became the 11th person to die violently in Hancock County this year.

The mangled body of Robert Baker was found beside the L&N Railroad tracks near Ansley at 3 p.m. Friday where he had apparently fallen beneath the wheels of a freight train the previous night.

Deputy Sheriff George Rayburn and Civil Defense Director Lucien Kidd were called after Gordon Courage, Jr., told Malcolm Green, a Whitfield Lumber Co. employee, that he had seen a small dog dragging what appeared to be a large bone with a human foot protruding from its mouth. Green called the sheriff's office.

At about the same time a Lakeshore Negro, Mack Harris, reported finding the remains by the track as he was on his way to fish in Sportsmen's Lake.

Rayburn notified the Bay St. Louis depot and a small motor car was sent to bring the body to Lakeshore Road where it was taken to Riemann's Fahy-Whitfield Funeral Home by ambulance. A coroner's jury empaneled by Emile Piazza, with Rayburn as balliff, ruled as accidental the cause of death.

Bruce Greenfield, of the L&N detective force, was called by Rayburn, and he aided in the investigation. He stated that Baker and two companions, Johnny Deertwater, an Indian, and Jack Woody had been questioned by detectives after they were seen indulging in 'horseplay' at Gentilly Yard about 8 p.m. Thursday. At the time the trio had in their possession an almost empty gallon wine jug and were allegedly intoxicated.

The officers told them to leave the yard and did not see them return. They apparently hopped the freight as it was leaving the switchyard at 10 p.m.

At the time Baker was last seen by the detectives he had three $1 bills in his shirt pocket and four in his wallet. When found, only one bill remained in his wallet, although no other evidence of foul play was discovered.

The body was shipped to Lake City, Tenn., for burial.

Let's get going with that pier

Several weeks ago it looked as though Bay St. Louis would again have a municipal pier at the foot of Ulman Avenue. The Jaycees undertook this project with an estimated cost of $2,500 and the Jaycees doing the labor. Even with the city contributing $1,000 in materials, the fund is just over $1,500 and the season gets older by the day. We are surprised that the downtown merchants alone would not come up with most of the $1,500 needed outside of the city's contribution. On the other hand, we do not know to what extent the Jaycees have pushed the project.

In any event, a shorter $1,500 pier is better than none at all and the sooner that it is built the better. We suggest that the Jaycees take hammer and saw in hand and rebuild the old pier as soon as possible.

Vanishing breed of locomotion

How would you describe a train ride? How describe the rhythmic beat as your car passes a joint in the rails, or sways as the train rounds a turn, or the jolt when the engineer too rapidly accelerates?

Ten years ago from Bay St. Louis there were two through trains to the northeast with seven Pullmans, now there is a fractional one and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad as well as the West Point Railroad and the Southern Railroad want to discontinue it. Their basis is lack of passenger traffic and, let's face it, train travel is now passe. Not many persons or organizations have decried the L&N's present petition to discontinue the Hummingbird.

But, what of eating your first meal on a railroad diner? Even if the car sways too much, isn't it an experience worth having?

Bay St. Louis will never again enjoy the six or seven special trains each week end. At the current pace there may be no passenger railroad travel in a couple of years. We suggest that the mammas and papas of the area take a special trip with their children to New Orleans via the railroad. Take an early morning train and have breakfast. Perhaps our idea is a foolish, nostalgic one but if you don't take the children soon they will never have a train ride.

Teens defend

Our readers write

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I don't think it's fair that Teen Times should be taken out of the paper because of one article. After all, the whole column isn't about teens. I know my friends and I enjoy reading Teen Times every week, we look forward to it. If we didn't consider it a waste of time, we wouldn't read it.

right to express his own opinion. Yet I have received this letter accusing me of impeding progress and usurping the will of the majority? What majority? Not the entire Chamber but a bare quorum of the Board of Directors. The following names are those who were present: Ames Karpovian, Russell Chapman, Rable Griffin, John H. Cook, Jr., W.W. Webb, E. F. Bayar, Bay St. Louis; Gerry Lane, Charles Dickson, T. Feeney, Waveland, and Mrs. Nell Deane. I know these people stand high in their profession and who are they to tell us what to do?

Letters to the editor are always welcome. They should be on pertinent topics, in good taste and limited to 300 words. The Sea Coast Echo requires that each letter be properly signed by the author. If it will be considered for publication, the author's address or contact information must be provided.

victions and stand up and be counted! One final note - Is it fair taxation when property owners whose streets have been paved are exempt from the front footage assessment? Taxpayers money paid for this... The new unimproved "infillage" will be on all property owners, even those whose streets will not be improved? If this makes no sense, why is it being done? I must re-assess my interpretation of democracy.

Sincerely,
RICHARD THAMES

Czechs seek own destiny

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON - It was only 30 years ago that the Czechs began dreaming of their own destiny. In 1918, after the devastation that became World War I and the collapse of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, they found themselves in a new nation. They had won their freedom, but they found themselves in a world of new challenges.

The Czechs had fought bravely for their freedom, but they found themselves in a world of new challenges. They had won their freedom, but they found themselves in a world of new challenges. They had won their freedom, but they found themselves in a world of new challenges.

Believe it or not!

Private enterprise got the jump on Bay St. Louis' street paving plans this week as city utility crews adjust manhole and water valves for resurfacing of Ramoneda Street for 350 feet off South Beach Boulevard. Adjacent property owners Joseph R. Scharf, Roland Mastayer and R.J. Tricon got together to finance paving after street was protested out of special assessment front-footage program by majority of householders. Charlie Gilliam of utility force welds ax on man hole as Mayor John A. Scalfie points to necessary level. Municipal paving program is now awaiting court decision on objections to $780,000 bond issue validation.

Vietnam switch

Before President Johnson flew to Honolulu to meet President Thieu of Vietnam, he had been persuaded to make a further de-escalation of the war. Why he changed his mind is not clear, but it would not accept a coalition government for Vietnam and would continue the war on the present basis. The reason for Johnson's about-face apparently strong arguments against any concessions to the North made by President Thieu. Thieu has succeeded in convincing other Vietnamese leader in rallying support for his government. But reports from Saigon are that Thieu would like to from office if he abandoned a hard line against the North Vietnamese or the Viet Cong.

Johnson apparently accepted the argument that the war would mean only new chaos and even larger and longer U.S. involvement.

Negro militants

There is no question but that a small group of militants is out to disrupt key American cities this summer. The FBI has picked up irrefutable evidence of this.

The chief target of the militants has been Washington. The reasoning of the militants is that it would be draining the Negro movement and to the world if they would gain the capital of the United States.

They argue that the majority of the population in Washington is Negro and that if they work carefully they can win. Their strategy is to do this neighborhood by neighborhood. They're out first to persuade the moderates that the militants are the wave of the future and that if the moderates are going to run for office they will have to do business with the militants. If not, the militants will disrupt their lives and make it impossible for the moderates to run.

For this reason the militants are making some noise. This was what was behind the expulsion of all whites from a called "open" meeting in Washington last week to fight for neighborhood control of police forces. Because the whites were ejected, several outstanding Negro moderates were out in protest.

We can report that this strategy was devised by Carmichael, who is still a resident in Washington. He is laying low, making no public speeches which would put him in jeopardy of deportation or prosecution. Publicly his strategy has become the reverse of his subversive statements and the communist countries. Nevertheless his tactics have changed.

South Pacific is next for theater

What is probably the Little Theater's most ambitious undertaking in its 23-year history is now well underway as the cast of Rogers and Hammerstein's South Pacific enters its fourth week of rehearsal.

Not only is the cast of 80 the largest ever assembled in this theater, but the royalties for four nights of production will be the largest ever paid here, and the number of scene changes practically incredible (13 in Act I alone).

Directed by Mrs. John McKenna, assisted by Burt Barrett and a staff of other veteran Little Theater directors, the musical made famous on Broadway and in Hollywood will be presented here Aug. 28 through 31.

Starring in the local production will be Lana Taylor as Nellie Forbush, Conrad Maufrey as Emile DeBeque, Frater Paul Kurylo as Lt. Cable, Sharon McKenna as Liat, Inez Favre as Bloody Mary, and Bill Anderson as Seabee Luther Billie.

Although the stage at the theater was in constant use during recent weeks for the presentation of The Pleasure of his Company, the musical numbers and basic blocking for South Pacific have been in rehearsal in a room made available at Our Lady of the Gulf School.

MR. WALTER W. FERGUSON AND SON OF PICAYUNE, MISS., TAKING DELIVERY OF NEW MALIBU FROM GERRY LANE SALESMAN JOE PALAZZO.

After shopping several days, I decided to go talk with Joe Palazzo at Gerry Lane Chevrolet. The next day I went back and picked up my new Chevrolet.

I advise anyone interested in car to make it a point to see Joe Palazzo at Gerry Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis. WALTER A. FERGUSON, Picayune, Miss.

Reception is given

Kathy Saux is off to Miss Hospitality race

Miss Kathy Saux, Hancock County's current Miss Hospitality, was feted with a reception Sunday afternoon at the Lodge prior to her departure for Biloxi to compete the 19th annual Miss Hospitality contest of the State Cultural and Industrial Board.

Citizens from throughout the county called during the hours 4 to 6 p.m. to extend their wishes to the contestant. Hancock County Chamber Commerce was host for the occasion.

In the receiving line with Miss Saux were her mother, Mrs. Roy Saux of Waveland; Miss Dale Russell, Hancock County's 1967-68 Miss Hospitality and first alternate in state-wide competition; Mrs. Russell J. Elliott, Charles A. Russell, III, and Joseph A. Russell, wives of the county supervisors.

Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Jr., at the guest book and Mrs. Wynne Ducomb presided at the reception.

A purse from the business citizens of the county was presented to Miss Saux by Mrs. Elliott to assist in defraying expenses of the competition. It consisted of a $500 check and a $15 gift certificate.

Miss Saux is one of 67 Mississippi girls in the contest. The unique event--designed specifically to select the state's official hostess and ambassador of goodwill--is sponsored by the travel department of the A&I board.

Perry L. Nations, manager of the department and contest co-ordinator, stated that the winner will travel an estimated 50,000 miles to travel shows, conventions and special events nationwide during her year's reign.

The present Miss Hospitality, Mary Katherine Morris of Greenville, will relinquish her title during Saturday night ceremonies where Governor John Bell Williams will exercise his gubernatorial prerogative and crown the 1968-69 "Miss Hospitality."

After going to several dealers to buy a new Camaro, I came to the conclusion that none wanted to take my 1966 Fiat in trade.

Remembering the ads in newspapers, I decided to go and see Joe Palazzo at Gerry Lane Chevrolet. He and the entire staff of this dealership showed me immediately that they wanted my business. I advise anyone interested in a car to contact Joe Palazzo before buying.

Safety high in GE site force

Some 1,200 employees at the space rocket testing facility entered in Hancock County are demonstrating that safety begins at work -- and they have the figures to prove it.

They are engineers, specialists, technicians and clerks of the Mississippi Test Support Department of the General Electric Co., prime contractor for operational, maintenance and technical services at NASA's Mississippi Test Facility. Their work ranges from operation of office machines through marine services, security, data acquisition and high pressure gases to the handling of exotic, super-cold fuels such as liquid hydrogen. Much of the work is in a hazardous environment.

Yet the industrial and operational safety record of the department since its organization in 1965 is one of the best in the nation.

There have been no deaths. Since Jan. 1, 1964, only four disabling injuries have been reported during 11,020,928 man hours (459,205 man days) on the job. This represents only one injury per 2,755,232 work hours, a frequency rate of .363. National Safety Council records show a frequency rate for the aircraft manufacturing industry of 2.26 and, for all industries, rate of 6.91.

Last disabling injury reported by GE workers at MTF was on July 5, 1967. Since then, they have safely worked more than 2,400,000 man hours (100,000 man days).

Paul V. King, manager of safety for the GE department, says employees themselves deserve the credit. He cites their full cooperation in safety programs and their individual safety consciousness. Factors which normally would mean a high accident rate--hazardous operations and commodities, new technology, non-repetitive functions--requiring unique skills, field work in small groups--are all present in the work of supporting tests at MTF.

King and his staff work closely with safety officials of NASA and of the Boeing Co. and North American Rockwell Corp. at the test site, as well as with firms having sub-contracts with GE-MTSD.

Through the MTF Site Safety Council, employees and their families are also instructed in off-the-job safety, and cooperative campaigns with surrounding communities seek to reduce holiday traffic accidents.

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

As stated before now is the time for catching fresh water fish as most of our streams are clear and one can always find the right tide. Proper time for catching bass and perch is when the tide is falling.

Reports are coming in of some nice catches most anywhere. The fish are of good size and are hitting popping bugs and casting plugs. Our best anglers are fishing mostly in Louisiana waters just west of Pearl River at Pearlington, in Middle and East Middle Rivers and in Pearl River proper.

We are continually asked about fishing licenses. If you have a Mississippi license and want to fish in Louisiana waters you must have a non-resident Louisiana license. With a Mississippi license you can fish both sides of Pearl River but can't go into Louisiana waters. The same thing applies to those with Louisiana licenses wanting to fish in Mississippi streams.

Pearl River is clear now and fresh water fish are being caught in the river. There are numerous launching places in the Pearl River area. The fishing grounds are nearby and a small outboard motor and boat are all that is needed. Salt water fish, speckles, red fish, flounders, are also caught in Pearl River from Pearlington to the mouth. Speckles are now being caught on live shrimp and artificial lures.

John Gleason and wife are enjoying fishing at their back door near Jordan River. John says they catch mostly big croakers. There are other fish in them there streams, folks.

Anthony Protti, Jr., and family returned to Belle Chasse after spending a two-week vacation at their newly acquired cottage. They all did their share of fishing, crabbing, etc.

Neal Yumbe of Picayune and Jack Garriga caught their share of fresh water fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Garcia and son, Phillip, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson spent the weekend at the new camp at Kaufman Bayou. Lloyd is manager for the Iwamba Co. He knows this country like a book as well as his fishing. Most of the streams closed to fishing during the winter months are now open. Thanks, Buddy.

Jerome Carver, weak but willing to go, has been catching his share of bass and perch. Jerome is an old timer at fishing and can tell some interesting stories of his experiences. They are true too.

Considering is good at the time. Some nice ones are being caught by those going after the bass and perch. They are rather

Four called for induction

Mrs. Carl Ladner, executive secretary of Selective Service Local Board 24, reported four Hancock residents left today for New Orleans for induction into the Army.

Leaving were Melvin Wilson, Larry Tillman, John W. Bordages and Shirley Forest Stockstill.

Mrs. Ladner said she has no pre-induction physical call for August or September.

Kiln girl's mate wins DFC for Asia duty

U.S. Air Force Tech. Sgt. Charles T. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Rogers of Rt. 1, Gulfport, has received the Distinguished Flying Cross and three awards of the Air Medal at McGuire AFB, N.J., for air action in Southeast Asia.

Rogers, a flight engineer, earned the DFC for extraordinary achievement while flying a vital combat support mission in Vietnam in search of several downed aircraft. Despite marginal weather, hazardous terrain and intense enemy ground fire, the mission was successfully completed.

His Air Medals were for outstanding airmanship and courage on other successful and important missions under hazardous conditions.

He is now at McGuire in a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

Sergeant Rogers, a graduate of Orange Grove High School, is married to the former Charlyne M. Necaise, daughter of Mrs. Rita Necaise of Kiln.

Area waterway booklet is out

A booklet, Waterborne Commerce of the United States—Part 2, has recently been released by the Army Corps of Engineers. It contains statistics on foreign and domestic movements of commodities and vessels at ports and on the waterways of the Gulf Coast, Mississippi River navigation system and the Atlatlas (Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands).

Copies may be obtained from the U.S. Army Engineer District, P.O. Box 50287, New Orleans, La. 70160, for $1.50.

Better check on your fishing license - it expired June 30. Game wardens are on the prowl.

Shrimp are plentiful but rather expensive. At 35 to 45 cents a pound it's costly to eat them too often and makes fishing with them kinder steep. A small seine will catch a lot of shrimp between the bars out front. A Try catching them, it's fun too.

Kaufman Bayou has been barricaded and is closed to fishing from now on. The Iwamba Co. has constructed a new camp at the mouth of the bayou for use of its employees. Kaufman Bayou is at the mouth of Middle River where it meets Little Lake. This bayou has been a favorite with local freshwater fishermen for years. It was full of bass and perch which were caught the year round.

Competition high as end approaches

Races are scheduled this weekend and next at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Since the boats won't be racing, the knot races at Pass Christian and competition is getting stiff for final positions in the three divisions.

Sailing from here in the girl knot event Saturday and Sunday will be Ann Stiefel, Valerie Nybo and Judy Reeves with Lore Fassnacht as alternates. Meanwhile those who have completed the required races in their respective classes will have to watch out for those who will be able to drop the bad ones by sailing two extra races.

Gary Michaelson in the A class had a good weekend with one first and two seconds. Norman Lamb, expert class, showed the fleet his heels in both of his races. Bay Swim is improving her standings with each race as well as teaching her husband how to be a good crew.

Strat Poindexter, with a late start in the competition is also gaining rapidly in the junior class.

Weekend results with skipper listed in order of finish and crews shown for first place were:

Juniors—Ellen Eagan with Marc and Quinn Eagan, Steve Klefer, Charles Cox and Strat Poindexter.

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club standings through July are:

Teen Times

For the Hoffman Lane home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zitter, some adult conspirators invited the family out for the evening and the crew worked undisturbed covering every tree, shrub, piece of lawn furniture, even tying a large bow on the lawn mower handle. Sounds a little messy, but the happy ending came the following morning when the same boys returned and cleaned the yard.

The first summer school session ended last week and those who only had to make up half-credit subjects are once again free to enjoy vacations. C.B. Mollere and Francis Shippey are a couple of these fortunate ones.

Charlotte Glass and David Call celebrated their third anniversary of going steady on July 15. We're not sure, but think that this twosome has set some kind of a record.

David is also due a birthday greeting having cut his 19th cake on Thursday, July 11.

Jan and Denise Strahan had a wonderful time on their vacation. They went to Mexico taking in the HemisFair enroute, and visiting Six Flags and Big Ben National Park on the way home.

Some of Jamie Arnold's friends were guests at her 17th birthday dinner at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Arnold. The party was Sunday, July 14.

Dick Kolstad, Jr., is due an apology. The fact that he was presented a merit badge as a full-fledged Boy Scout life-guard at the recent camp at Wiggins, was omitted in the story about those receiving awards.

Someone wants to know if Susan Hayward is Tony Gayton's new barber?

And what's this about Chris and Cabrini?

Is Mike going to be jealous while Janice is away?

We're told that Charlotte Piazza created such an involved style of hair that she had more than a little difficulty in combing her locks.

Lloyd was finally admitted to the mysterious Waveland fraternity. Now Pat and Robert are wondering if they'll be next.

We hope that Richard Labat is enjoying his vacation in Atlanta, Ga. He left Friday, July 12.

One of the larger Fourth of July parties was held on Cable Bridge Beach. Boys and girls from Waveland, the Bay and Pass Christian, had a ball and wound up the affair with a big watermelon fight.

Toni Buccola of New Orleans is spending the summer with her father Joe Buccola and Mrs. Buccola.

Brenda Crawford, who recently celebrated her 13th birthday, is due a get well wish having had knee surgery at Hancock General on Wednesday.

Ed Porter swims Bay at age 11 1/2

Eleven and one-half year-old P.E. Porter, III, may be the youngest person ever to swim the Bay of St. Louis and his sister, June, 15, may even take those honors in the feminine category.

The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Jr., of St. Charles Street accomplished their feat Saturday under the watchful eyes of their mother, long active in aquatic circles, and Assistant Scoutmaster Watson Johns.

It took June one hour and 30 minutes to cross the two-mile strip while Eddie required two hours and five minutes. Mrs. Porter is inclined to explain the time difference on the basis of concentration.

The pair went into the water by the telephone pole just north of the highway bridge and battled quite a current on their way across.

The children's great uncle, Gus Osolnach, also swam the Bay as a young man but the family hasn't been able to unearth any records to determine his age at the time.
